

Our Mission:

To support research and educational programs related to Ophthalmology and vision science in the United States and abroad.

To offer grants to individuals and organization in support of research projects and training programs that advance the understanding of vision and lead to improved treatment of vision related diseases

Daniel F. Rosberger, M.D., Ph.D., M.P.H
President

Foundation for Ophthalmology
Research & Education-International

52 East 72nd Street, NY 10021

Foundation for Ophthalmology Research and Education- International (FORE-I)

Supporting research and education in vision science

Information about donating and applying for funding

To Donate:

Please make checks payable to
Foundation for Ophthalmology
Research and Education

(FORE-I) and send to:

FORE-I
c/o Daniel Rosberger, MD, PhD, MPH
52 East 72nd Street
New York, NY 10021

FORE-I is a not-for-profit organization organized under the federal IRS 501(c)(3) statute. All donations are tax deductible.

Small Grants with Big Impact

FORE-I seeks to fund novel, game-changing, high impact pilot and proof of concept research from junior faculty at research centers in the United States and around the world.

To apply for grant support:

Download the grant application on www.FORE-I.org and return in PDF
format to DRosberger@FORE-I.org

For questions and additional information:

Foundation for Ophthalmology
Research & Education-International

52 East 72nd Street, NY 10021
212-439-9600
DRosberger@FORE-I.org
www.FORE-I.org

Previous FORE-I Grants have been awarded to fund research and education at:

Cornell University

Harvard University-Massachusetts
Eye and Ear Infirmary

Khesar Gyalpo University of Medical Sciences of Bhutan

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Medical University of South Carolina

Princeton University

Yale University